A ten-day course on research methodology jointly organised by East West University (EWU), Dhaka and SAARC Documentation Centre (SDC) New Delhi, India began on EWU campus at Aftabnagar, Dhaka on Monday, says a press release.

The purpose of this course is to define research and describe the research process and research methods and requirements for conducting successful research.

A total of thirty participants from eight SAARC countries attended the programme. This course is meant for researchers, faculty members, MPhil and PhD students.

Dr Rafiqul Huda Chaudhury, chairperson, Centre for Research and Training (CRT) and member of Board of Trustees, EWU, inaugurated the programme as a chief guest. Kesang Dechen, deputy director of SAARC Documentation Centre, was the special guest while Prof Ahmed Shafee, vice chancellor of EWU, was in chair. Dr Dilara Begum, librarian, EWU, delivered the welcome address.

The speakers in the programme hoped that the course would help to increase consciousness about research methods and literature searching, which would increase efficiency in conducting quality research in SAARC region. The course will continue till September 25.
